ITALIAN IS SLAIN FULL REGIMENT IN MERCUR CAMP

Fellow Mine La-

MENT AS RESULT OF MURDER.

As a result of a quarrel among a gang of Italian mine laborers at Mercur early Saturday morning, Antonio Pedro, an Italian, lies dead, shot through the head, and Jim Appelly, Carosa Rosididia, Joseph Calufello and Nick Carusi, all Italians, are under arrest charged with complicity in the murder.

It appears that the five men, with some others, began drinking in the Golden Gate saloon, an Italian resort, at a late hour on Friday night. There was considerable quarreling among them, but not sufficient to give cause for uneasiness or to afford the slightest hint of the dark tragedy which was to follow. About 1:30 in the morning Pedro left the saloon in company with some of his companions, and headed for Geyser Gulch, the Italian gang ieft shortly afterwards, and the next known was when the entire camp was awakened by a brick fusillade of shots.

Marshal Thomas Culliman, and the night marshal, William Brough, were attracted by the firing and as quickly as possible made their way in the direction of the shots. Arrived at the Gulch, they found the window of the house of Pedro shattered and upon investigation discovered the lifeless form of the victim lying in a pool of blood on-the floor. The officers were quick to act and in a few minutes had succeeded in breaking the participators most and quarrel. Every man was armed cocked lying beside his bed, and all had revolvers or knives. The men surrendered after a brief show of resistance and were quickly locked up.

Yesterday the entire camp was in a fever ob excitement following the killing. Not a single Italian showed up for work in the mines, out of a possible löor 200 employed. A hurried inquest was held before Judge Dumlavey and a verdict of death at the hands of three or more Italians in a quarrel which originated in a saloon, was returned. Accounts of the trouble which led up to the shooting vary, but the opinion is general that the quarrel was between Appelly and the victim and that it had its origin in the days when both men were residents of sunny Italy. It is not known positively that either of the men were members of any Italian secret society, but rumors of Black Hand oaths and Maffa obligations were rife in the camp yesterday. Everything was quiet, however, and there is nothing to indicate any further outbreaks.

The annual installation of officers of James B. McKean post No. 1 of the G. A. R. was held last evening in Odd Fellows' hall. The election took place in December last and the following officers were installed: H. F. Evans, commander; R. L. Peterson, junior vice commander; C. W. A. Schnell, adjutant; O. F. Davis, quartermaster; William D. Gaby, chapilain; C. W. Peters, officer of the day. Following this a musical program was rendered, consisting in part of a song by Mrs. Courtis with piano and violin accompaniment, a recitation by Miss Mary Pickering and a piano solo by Miss Brace. Old army songs were sung by the comrades.

The annual installation of officers of the G. A. R. was held last evening in Odd fellowing officers of the coat. In the meantime an amateur emulator of Sher-lock Holmes, acting on the mistaken belief that there was a reward for the recovery of the coat, located the thief and the stolen goods at Ogden.

Friday night he asked the chief by telephone to appoint him a special officer to go to Ogden and get the coat. From the information the police have been able to glean, the erstwhile detective was successful in recovering the stolen coat, but did not apprehend the thief. The Ogden police, however, were averse to letting anything leave their city with a reward attached to it, and promptly took the coat away from the Salt Lake officer and held it to await the payment of the sup-
